7)SOME TIMES USING DOWNLOAD MANAGERS U MAY DOWNLOAD HTML FILE

hint: to avoid this dont click download later .download at least 200kB AND stop and download when u like to do (the link expires in 48 hours)

hint: while downloading multiple files it may say limit exceeded(STATUS IN DOWNLOAD MANAGERS IS error then immediately disconnect net and login back and resume download[WORKS FOR DYNAMIC IP ] .some times may download html file in this case also)

8)some times u get CRC error while unzipping .u may question why this happens ,because ur system may drop some packets of data send by server.now click extract to and select the destination and dont forget check the box keep broken files and u will get the .avi file

now a day's links are not resumable

u may ask why?

generally when there is huge traffic on site .some users should be denied but premium users shouldn't be so in order to serve they remove the resume capability of some users .generally they give less priority to small links less than or equal to 100mb.there for the links which are 240mb and 350mb are resumable and 100 mb links are sometimes not resumable.i found that the links resumed between 12:00 gmt and 3:00 gmt are not supporting resume capability and giving prompt file not found effective from 20th April megaupload have changed their servers so no new downloads for free users will be allowed anywhere between 10:00GMT and 21:00GMT for a span of 10 hours .so don't think only premium users can download however the resume capability is supported by any file of any length for a span of 2 days from the start of download of 1st kb .so what i suggest is download at least some part of movie not between this time and u can resume them between this time.
